CHILDREN OF UAP.

They Don't Have to Worry About Food, Clothes or Shelter.

In describing Uap, one of the Caroline Islands, Dr. W. H. Furness says that children become more or less public property on that island as soon as they are able to run about from house to house.

They cannot without extraordinary exertion fall off the island, and, like little guinea pigs, can find food anywhere. Their clothing grows by every roadside, and any shelter or no shelter is good enough for the night. They cannot starve. There are no wild beasts or snakes to harm them. What matters it if they sleep under the high, star powdered ceiling of their foster mother's nursery or curl up on mats beneath their father's thatel?

There is no implication here that parents are not fond of their children. On the contrary, they love them so much that they see their own children in all children. It is the ease of life and its surroundings which have atrophied the emotion of parental love.

When a father has merely to say to his wife and children, "Go out and shake your breakfast off the trees," or, "Go to the thicket and gather your clothes," to him the struggle for existence is meaningless, and without a struggle the prizes of life are held in light esteem.

Somebody's children are always about the houses and to the fore in all excitements, and never did I see them roughly handled or harshly treated.

Until 1870 it was against the law and sacred custom for any subject to look at the emperor of Japan. His political advisers and attendants saw only his back. When he first left the palace the shutters of all the houses had to be drawn, and no one was permitted in the streets. Even today, when the emperor has the privilege of driving through the streets like one of his subjects, it is not considered quite proper to cast a glance at him.

LOOK OUT FOR DODDER!

Seed Imported From Chile Badly Mixed With Harmful Weed Product. The United States department of agriculture announces that since July 1, 1910, twenty-three lots of clover seed of probable Chilean origin aggregating 370,000 pounds have been imported into the United States. In all of these shipments two kinds of dodder seed characteristic of Chilean red clover seed are present. At a normal rate of seeding these shipments are sufficient to seed approximately 46,000 acres, and at this rate of seeding an average of approximately 450 dodder seeds would be sown on each square rod.

The sowing of this Chilean seed means that the clover crop on a considerable proportion of the area on which it is seeded will be destroyed by dodder, and farmers should be on their guard against purchasing this seed. Unfortunately most of these importations have gone into the southern part of the clover producing region where this dodder will undoubtedly prove disastrous. This Chilean clover seed is itself especially fine looking seed, being dark colored and approximately 50 per cent larger in size than ordinary red clover seed produced in the United States. It will therefore doubtless receive a ready sale on account of its fine appearance.

TO HANG A DOUBLE GATE.

Directions For Making So It Will Swing True and Latch Properly.

There are many farmers who prefer to use a double gate, and yet there are comparatively few who are successful in hanging these double gates so that they swing true or latch properly, says the Kansas Farmer. The drawing herewith indicates a method by which this may be accomplished with very little trouble and absolutely accurate results.

Build the gate all in one structure and nail the crosspieces in place in the middle. Prop the gate into position between the two posts and at each the hinges to both ends. Be sure that the hinges are large enough and strong enough to support the gate when in use. It is better to have them too large than too small. After the gate has been attached to the hinges at both ends saw it in two, as shown in the drawing, and the work is done. It may be desirable to place the middle crosspieces which will be the ends of the half gates a little distance apart and saw out the boards between in order that they may not bind in case of wet weather. This will simply require two sawings instead of one. If diagonals are necessary they may be attached either before or after the gate is sawed, but they should always be put on in the manner shown in the lower drawing. Have the upper end of the diagonal attached near the upper hinge, as this is the only way it can be put on to absolutely prevent sagging. If the diagonal is reversed and the upper end placed at the other end of the gate it encourages sagging by its faulty construction as well as by its added weight.

A neat farm gate of whatever type adds materially to the appearance and value of the farm home.

To be obliged to make a poor farm pay is good training, for when you get a better one you know the trick.

Live Stock Notes.

Wheat, bran and oats make strong bones in the colt.

A poorly nourished, stunted two-year-old filly should not be bred.

Don't leave a horse heated by driving to stand exposed in a cold wind.

Too many farmers sacrifice quality for mere size in the selection of a ram.

It never pays to keep old wornout animals except as a matter of sentiment. It is well to cull very closely in cattle, swine and poultry.

There is nothing like milk for making hogs out of pigs. It is their natural feed, and when used with a grain ration will develop pork more rapidly than any other feed. It pays to keep cows just for the pigs.

Do not feed pigs too much corn while they are young. Corn is a fat producing food and does not accelerate growth. Feed shoats tankage, shorts and bran in sufficient quantity to cause rapid growth.

The Wyoming experiment station, after repeated trials, concludes that corn and the bearded or Scotch barley when fed with alfalfa were about equal in value for mutton production. Barley in this test proved to be a shade the better. Twenty-seven per cent less alfalfa and 28 per cent less grain were required where barley replaced either in a ration.

A New Back for an Old One—How It Is Done in Lexington

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Lexington citizen, T. E. Dulaney, who says: "I am glad to verify every word of the public statement I gave two years ago, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills and I can say that it gave a correct account of my experience. I have induced many other people to use them and I have heard nothing but good reports from all. My back was in bad shape and I was obliged to remain in bed for three days. When I did get up, I could not walk unless I was in a stooped position and then I endured agony. I also had a great deal of trouble from kidney secretions. Finally I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and the contents of this box greatly improved my condition."

Dwarf Honeybees.

In some of the East Indian islands and on the mainland of Hindustan are to be found the smallest race of honeybees in the world. These dwarf honey collectors are known to entomologists as Apis florea. Their honeycombs are no larger than a child's hand, and the cells are about the size of a small pinhead. This honey is excellent, as is the wax. The little creatures build the combs on the branch of a low tree, and as they have not to provide for winter they work all the year through raising broods like themselves.

The Soothing Spray

Of Ely's Liquid Cream Balm, used in an atomizer is an unspeakable relief to sufferers from Catarrh. Some of them describe it as a Godsend, and no wonder. The thick, foul discharge is dislodged and the patient breathes freely, perhaps for the first time in weeks. Liquid Cream Balm contains all the healing, purifying elements of the solid form, and it never fails to satisfy. Sold by all druggists for 75c, including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 36 Warren Street, New York.

A Bull For a Cad.

The ancient Egyptians believed that the spirit of their greatest god, Osiris, dwelt among them in the form of a pure white bull marked by a certain sign. Herodotus mentions two of these signs—a black eagle on the back and a black forehead with a square of white in its center. These creatures when found were worshiped during life and mummified after death.

Averts Awful Tragedy

Timely advice given Mrs. C. W. Houghby, of Marengo, Wis., (R. No. 1) prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. Doctors had said her frightful cough was a 'consumption' cough and could do little to help her. After many remedies failed, her aunt urged her to take Dr. King's New Discovery. "I have been using it for some time," she wrote "and the awful cough has almost gone. It also saved my little boy when taken with severe bronchial trouble." This matchless medicine has no equal for throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by B. H. Gorrell.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps?

No. Never. Its foolish to fear a fanciful evil when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause acute, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Prewell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had the finest health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only 50c at B. H. Gorrell.

PERMANENCY IN ROAD CULVERTS

The Remedy For Worst Places In Highways.

THIS PROBLEM IS NEGLECTED.

Plain or Re-enforced Concrete Is No Doubt the Best Material to Use For These Small Structures Either in the Flat Top or Arch Form, Says Kansas Highway Engineer.

Much as we need improved roads we need permanent culverts more, says W. S. Gearhart, state highway engineer of Kansas. It is more important that all the bridges and culverts be in good condition than that all the roads be kept in first class repair, for if the road is to be used at all the culverts and bridges must be kept up. It is not often that a road gets so bad that it is impassable, but this is a common occurrence with culverts and bridges. The old ford is a thing of the past, and almost without exception the worst places in the road are at the culvert sites. They generally are from two inches to ten inches above or below the road surface and often have a mudhole on either side and are in such wretched condition we would gladly drive around them if we could and often have to do so. And many of the stone and concrete culverts are only covered sufficiently to keep them in place. They are like a series of barrels half buried in the road, no attempt being made to build approaches to them.

Different state highway commissions have defined culverts as structures having spans of less than four feet to ten feet. In this discussion I assume that all structures under ten feet are culverts.

At the present time practically all culverts in Kansas are too small to carry the water that comes to them. The matter of the required area is one that has been given very little attention.

Good stone laid in cement mortar is very satisfactory either in arch or flat top slab construction for culverts. If slabs are used a four foot clear span would require that the flagstones should be twelve inches thick. Six feet is close to the safe maximum span for the flat top stone culvert. Many times stone abutments are built and a re-enforced concrete slab placed on top, which gives a very satisfactory structure.

In the arch construction the base of the foundations should be sufficiently
